

AN ANCIENT LOVE SONG FROM SARDINIA

It is entitled 'no potho reposare' - I cannot rest and is dedicated to Diosa, who is a Goddess for the writer, as Athena was for the Greeks.

It is a love poem consisting of the postal correspondence between two lovers who live far apart.

The man writing the letter says that he cannot rest from the love of his heart because he is thinking of her every moment of his life.

And he would steal the sun and the stars from the sky.

He would like to create a beautiful world for her because he loves her so much.

Vatican 1989 - Postcard
L. 550

Greece 1950 - postcard of 2 ap

If it were possible, it would take the form of an angel, an invisible spirit.

